

Celebrating Woodside Primary School

8th March-12th March 2021

Dear Parents,

Welcome to our first edition of a weekly celebration newsletter. Here at Woodside we love to celebrate all kinds of learning and the varied activities that takes place and would like to share these achievements with the wider school community. We welcome any news from home too, so if your child has achieved a certificate or won a match in a class or club outside of school (when these start up again) then e-mail the office and we will pop it onto the newsletter too.

On this first day back after another stint of home learning, all the staff at Woodside would like to send out our congratulations to you, our parents for the home schooling you have completed over the past few months. We know it has not been easy but from all the photos, videos and comments we can see you have been doing a marvelous job. The children have returned to us today happy and eager to learn and that is what matters the most.

We look forward to celebrating so much more with you over the next few weeks.

Happy Mothers Day

All the children have been busy this week preparing for Mother's day.

Before the last lockdown Dormice Class were excited to see a very low flying helicopter hovering over our school. They were so excited that they wrote letters to the pilots and we sent them off to Western Power Distribution Helicopter Unit at Bristol Airport. We were thrilled to hear back from the pilots who sent some freebies and this lovely framed photograph. I have been told that they are now going to put Woodside Primary on their flight path so the next time they are flying past they will say hello!
